Sunday Theme

Once again the season of Advent is here; waiting for us to grasp its full meaning. What is that meaning for us? Would you accept the definition: "Season of Expectation." That's what it really is all about. The people of old lived in loneliness and fear while awaiting the promised Messiah, but to those who know and love Christ it becomes a season of promise and hope. His promise of eternal life and our hope that what has been promised by Christ is not some cruel hoax. Christ IS real. Christ is our real hope, and ... Real Hope Never Quits.

Baptisms

David Anthony Harvey, son of Lynn and Betty Pomikal Harvey of Sandusky, Ohio, was baptized by his uncle, Father David Harvey here at St. John's on November 22, 1972, immediately preceeding the Thanksgiving Vigil Mass. His sponsors were Richard and Virginia Harvey of Chelsea. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harvey, also of Chelsea, were present for the ceremony and the Thanksgiving Mass which was celebrated by their son.

WELCOME, WILLIAM

Mr. William Brooks is St. John's newest adult convert. William was baptized last Sunday by Father David Harvey and received his First Communion during the 11:00 Mass. He is married to the former Diane Lewis, a convert here at St. John's in 1969.

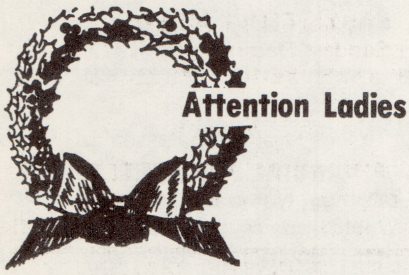
LITURGICALLY SPEAKING WILL NOT APPEAR THIS WEEK DUE TO THE RETREAT FATHER HARVEY IS PARTICIPATING IN.



If there are any of you planning on adding some of your creative touches to the booth at the mini-bazaar on December 10th, please bring your handiwork to Joan Gillman at 1207 Pearl or to Rose Budinger at 1210 Pearl by December 8th so they can be appropriately marked before taking to the bazaar. So many have sent so much that we are overwhelmed by your generosity. There will be a lovely assortment for the Christmas sale so we hope that many will take advantage of this opportunity.

THANKS-GIVING FROM A GRATEFUL PARISHIONER

Dear Father King,

The beautiful Thanksgiving Service at St. John's was truly something for which to be grateful and I was very much inspired. Thus:

For the priests and nuns at St. John's, we thank you, Lord.

For the beautiful liturgy and those who write it, we thank you, Lord

For the voices of children singing, joined in the new choir, we thank you, Lord.

For the gifts to the poor, we thank you, Lord.

For the beauty of creation, we thank you, Lord.

For the joy of living, we thank you, Lord.

For live after death, we thank you, Lord.

For those who gave thanks together, we thank you, Lord.

For "the other nine," strengthen them, Lord.

And most of all, O Lord,

... for the love of God,

... for your Living Presence at Mass, and

... for the Saving Graces of your Body and Blood,

We Thank You.

PARISHIONERS IN THE NEWS CONGRATULATIONS ST. THOMAS

Pete O'Neil, former St. John's High School student, figured largely in St. Thomas' newly held title of Parochial League Second Division Championship in football. Pete, the senior quarterback, capped a 32-yard Irish drive in the second quarter by going over for a 2-yard touchdown in the game with Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes. The win gave St. Thomas the championship and earns a tremendous applause from the football fans at St. John's. Congratulations St. Thomas and Pete O'Neil!

Once again, Marcia Harrison is in the news being named co-chairman of the Ypsilanti Area Sesquicentennial Board of Directors. She and John Kirkendall took office November 27. Mrs. Harrison has been active at St. Johns and in the Ypsilanti area for many years.

Eileen Madigan, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. James Madigan of our parish, a Senior nursing student at Detroit's Mercy College, has been named to the new edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." She was chosen for outstanding leadership and service to the community and the college. Choice was also based on scholarship and promise of future usefulness. Eileen is a 1969 graduate of St. John's High School.

LANSING DIOCESE SPONSORS

The movie, "I'm 17 and Pregnant," is being sponsored by the Lansing Diocese on Channel 23 on December 4th at 7:00 p.m. and again on December 11th at 9:00 p.m. This movie is well worth the seeing for those of you who are able to bring in this channel.

Prepare Ye The Way of the Lord/Long Live God

"Prepare ye the way of the Lord/Long Live God." If you've seen or heard the production of "Godspell," you probably recognize these lines from the finale.

To me they sum up the Advent message and remind us of our life-time vocation to prepare ourselves now and during all the seasons of our life for the time when Christ will fill all the world with His presence.

As we begin again this period of celebrating the Coming of Christ nearly 2000 years ago, His coming to us now in sacraments and other people and his final coming at the end of time, let's feed our Christmas spirit, warm our hearts and renew our appreciation of what we celebrate on Christmas --- the presence of Christ Who opened up the way to God and to our brothers.

Too often pre-Christmas activities convey the message that we still await the birth of Jesus. This can be avoided if we remember that what we are celebrating is Christ's birthday. Even small children know the significance of a birthday celebration and understand how it's a way of saying to the person present right now -- You're special, we rejoice in your presence and your growth. Then we can explain that Advent calls us to acknowledge our own neediness. It calls us to respond to the needs of others. But most especially it reminds of how important and worthwhile we are. For in Advent we reflect on God's love for us and how he has chosen to need us to communicate His love to others. In other words, the Father's presence among us, the growth of the Spirit of Christ in the world depends in a very real sense upon us.

Opening ourselves to that Spirit, acknowledging our neediness and opening ourselves to others is indeed the way to prepare for the Lord and make it possible for God to "live long" in our world.

Some families have adopted the activity of building an Advent wreath and having a daily or weekly para-liturgical celebration. Usually someone reminds the others that the evergreens express life in the midst of apparent death -- an apt symbol for the continuing Presence of Christ in our world today. The four candles, one for each week in Advent, represent the ages of waiting for the coming of the Light of men. Accompanying the lighting of the candles can be any fitting ceremony your family chooses. You may sing an Advent hymn, a Christmas carol, or read a brief passage from Isaiah, the Advent prophet. You may want to discuss ways that you as individuals or a group could "make straight the way of the Lord."

Some phrases to get your discussion started are: Want less, hope for more; compare less, share more; do not hate, do not judge, be open; be kind, be forgiving; and so on.

A discussion based on faith in each person's good will and free of any attempt to "zap" each other for personal failing may be just the opportunity and the moment of grace you have been waiting for so that your family could communicate with each other on some of life's most real and enduring values. Also, if you have young children or live in a neighborhood of such, your family might like to use this adaptation of An Advent Celebration printed in the "WITNESS" magazine.

This ceremony is conducted once each week during Advent. It requires four people to take speaking parts. It could be conducted in your own home or by visiting a neighbor's home. Following the fourth part there is a party. Children might make decorations and help make goodies for this aspect of the celebration.

Each speaker could carry a lighted candle or a candle in your Advent wreath representing the week of Advent could be lighted.

PART ONE

Leader: We have a message for ... (our family, your family, whatever is appropriate.)

1st Speaker: We want to tell you good news. The Birthday of Jesus is coming in . . . . days.

2nd Speaker: Yes, -- but more good news.

3rd Speaker: He is coming now into the hearts of those who are loving and kind.

Leader: Yes -- but still more good news.

1st Speaker: Jesus will come again at the end of time and fill us completely with happiness. The joy we feel now is only a taste of that.

2nd Speaker: Let us thank God for the day long ago when God first gave us His Son.

3rd Speaker: Let us thank God for Jesus coming into our hearts now.

Leader: Let us be glad for the time when Jesus will come and fill our hearts completely.

Close singing "Come, O Come, Emmanuel" or some other familiar and appropriate song.

PART TWO

Leader: We have news to share. May we tell you?

1st Speaker: Our good news is this: Jesus birthday is coming in . . . . days.

2nd Speaker: Yes -- and more good news. Jesus is coming into our hearts now as we love one another.

3rd Speaker: And still more good news. Jesus will come at the end of time and fill the world with peace and happiness.

Leader: Our forefathers the Jews waited hundreds and hundreds of years for Him to come the first time.

1st Speaker: Sometimes they wondered if he would ever come.

2nd Speaker: But the prophets -- good men inspired by God to speak for him -- kept them hoping.

3rd Speaker: One of the most famous of these prophets was Isaiah. He told the people about the coming of the Messiah, the one who would bring the kingdom of peace and happiness to the world.

Leader: Isaiah said:

"The wolf and the lamb will live together.
The panther will lie down with the kid.
The calf and the young lion will eat together with a little boy to lead them.
The cow and the bear will make friends.
The lion will eat hay like the ox.
The baby will play by the cobra's hole.
There will be no hurt or harm on God's holy mountain, for the earth will be filled with God's love" (Isaiah 11:6-9).

1st Speaker: Jesus is the Messiah.

2nd Speaker: He came 2000 years ago.

3rd Speaker: He comes now as we love one another.

Leader: He shall come again at the end of time to fulfill the promise God spoke through Isaiah.

1st Speaker: We have been waiting a long time now.

2nd Speaker: We have been waiting for hundreds and hundreds of years.

3rd Speaker: But the loving people we know keep us hoping.

Leader: So let us get ready for that happy time when He will come again. Let us try to be more loving and kind.

Close singing "Come, O Come,

Emmanuel" or some other appropriate song.

Parts Three and Four will be included in next week's paper.

Perhaps none of these suggestions fit you or your family. But with loudspeakers playing Christmas Carols to death in department stores, restaurants, bars, and shopping malls, we ought to take some thought and action toward saving - savoring a bit of the Advent spirit by attempting, as the New Catechism notes, to "share once more the longing for God's coming and the conversion which prepared for it."

PROJECT TRANSITION

Will you help us brighten the Christmas Season for many lonely, forgotten people in our community?

Project Transition, in conjunction with the Care Committee of the Service Commission is planning a Christmas Party on December 14th for former State Hospital patients living in Half-Way Houses. Most of these people have no family and the Holiday season will be a sad and lonely time.

You can help by donating a small gift, such as was previously done in our parish with the Giving Tree idea. There will be approximately 90 "guests" present. If you would buy a small article, wrap it, and label FOR A MAN or FOR A WOMAN, it will be given accordingly and very much appreciated by the Transition helpers as well as their "guests". Since the party will be held December 14th, it will be necessary to have your gifts at the rectory by December 12th so that what is still needed can be purchased. You can also help by donating refreshments and salads, etc. or transportation to the party. If you cannot help in any of the above, a small donation for gifts would be appreciated. A small amount of your time, some refreshments, transportation, a donation can mean so much to those who have so little. The women who are working on this project deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts and especially for their faith that people will come through when needed. They began with nothing and are dependent on you.

If you can help in any way, please call Teri Ellis at 483-0818.

Why don't you drop by that evening and mingle with those who need to know that they are cared for in our parish and community.
